Santa will be visiting Northern Pendleton Fire District

Santa Claus will be visiting the Northern Pendleton Fire District on December 15. Santa can come to your house to visit your children. He will be passing out candy canes when he comes to your house. If you would like to have Santa bring your children presents, They need you to bring up a wrapped present to the firehouse by December 14, 2012. There will be staff at the firehouse between 6 a.m.-4 p.m. You must call and register your child for a home visit, (859) 472-5127.

You must live in the Northern Pendleton District to have Santa come visit your house.

History books would make a nice Christmas gift

Still wondering what to get for a Christmas gift. The Pendleton County History book would make a great stocking stuffer or gift for that history buff.

Pendleton County Historical Society President Penny Conrad will be sighing copies of the recent historical book the club published, from 2-4 p.m. on Sunday, December 2. The signing will take place at Conrad's Hardware and Gifts at 226 West Shelby Street in Falmouth. You can purchase the book there at the store.

A portion of the proceeds goes to the Pendleton County Historical Society.

Falmouth Christian Holiday Dinner December 2

The Falmouth Christian Church will hold its annual Thanksgiving/Christmas dinner following the morning worship service on Sunday, December 2.

Santa will be making a special appearance for the children after the meal.

Fire destroys home on Lightfoot Fork Road

Fire broke out in a two-story frame home at 1500 Lightfoot Fork Road at 8:04 p.m. on November 24, 2012. No one was home at the time of the fire. A faulty water heater is believed to have started the fire. Five units from Falmouth Fire Department responded to the fire. The back of the home was fully engulfed when firemen arrived. The home was a total loss. Phil and Yvonne Price lived in the home. They lost everything. Tammy Snider of Cynthiana owned the home. Fire units have responded back to the house for two rekindles. Brown named district football coach of the year

By Bruce Reller, Jr., Reporter

Pendleton County High School Wildcat football head coach Terry Brown was recently named the 2012 KFCA/Russell Athletics District Coach of the Year.

"It is a great honor, especially since this award is voted on by other coaches," Coach Brown said. "I owe a huge thanks to our administration staff, board members, and boosters for their support."

Brown continued, "Also, thank you to Superintendent Anthony Strong, AD Keith Smith, my varsity staff, as well as the rest of the coaches all the way down to the youth league. They all do a great job, and I am very blessed to be in this position."

Coach Brown has been working hard in leading his football team

every year and helping turning the football program around for the future.

"A head coach is only as good as his assistant coaches and youth program. I'm lucky to have great ones," Brown explained. "I have great confidence that if we keep improving and follow the structure we put in place, that we will be a top five team year in year out amongst the Northern Kentucky polls within the next couple of years."

Coach Brown said that football is still young in this county, but he can see the strides the football program is making, and the athletes in the youth program show that PC football has a great future to come.

Three-vehicle accident involving tractor

Pendleton County Deputy Sheriff Wayne Dutle investigated a three-vehicle, injury accident at 6:20 p.m. on Sunday, November 18.

Michael Pugh, 16, Falmouth, operating a 2003 John Deere, was traveling south on US 27 near Hi and Dry Storage hauling two trailers of hay which equaled six bales.

Lori Rodarmel, 52, Cynthiana, operating a 1997 Oldsmobile Achieva, was also traveling southbound on US 27 when she came upon Pugh but could not see the tractor or two trailers because the bails of hay were too high to reveal the hazard lights on top of the tractor. The rear of the trailer was not displaying a placard either. Rodarmel, with passenger Maximo Rivero, 42, struck the rear of the trailer and lost control of her vehicle. She crossed into northbound traffic and struck Robert Bishop, 21, operating a 1997 Geo Prizm, head-on.

Bishop was transported by Pendleton County EMS to Harrison Memorial Hospital to be treated for injuries.

Damage to both vehicles was very severe and they were removed from the scene by Midwest Towing.

Blood drive scheduled in for Falmouth

Area residents are invited to be life-savers at the upcoming Kentucky Blood Center blood drive located at the Pendleton County High School on the KBC Bloodmobile at 2359 HWY 27 N., Falmouth, from 2:30-4:30 p.m., Monday, December 3.

Forgo your T-shirt when you donate, and Kentucky Blood Center will give the value of it to the Salvation Army. The value of your T-shirt can provide:

- Healthy snacks.
- Two meals for homeless women and children.
- Gatorade and snacks for three firefighters.
- A hat and gloves for a homeless person.

To schedule a donation or for more details, visit kybloodcenter.org to call 800-775-2522.

Blood donors must have a photo I.D., be 17 years old (16 with parental consent), weigh at least 110 pounds, be in general good health and meet additional requirements. Sixteen-year-old donors must have a signed parental permission slip, which can be found at kybloodcenter.org.

KBC, the largest FDA regulated blood bank in Kentucky, is a non-profit organization dedicated to ensuring a safe, adequate blood supply for patients at nearly 70 Kentucky hospitals and clinics in more than 60 counties. KBC relies on volunteers to donate 400 pints of blood per day to meet area patients' needs. Over the last year KBC distributed nearly 130,000 blood components.

Falmouth Police conduct police candidate testing

The Falmouth Police Department conducted police candidate testing at the Sharp Middle School track, Saturday, November 10. Candidates participated in physical fitness events in the morning and took a written examination in the afternoon. The physical testing was designed to determine cardiovascular endurance, anaerobic power, absolute strength and muscular endurance. The written examination was designed to test reading comprehension, grammar, math skills and the ability to report information. The department is testing to fill one vacant position. The physical and written are the first two phases of the testing. Candidates who proceed to the next phase will undergo oral interviews, background investigations, psychological testing, polygraph examination and further physical fitness testing. One candidate will be chosen overall and will then have to attend the Kentucky Department of Criminal Justice Training for eighteen weeks (768 hours) in Richmond, Ky. After completing and graduating from the police academy, the candidate will have to undergo another sixteen (16) weeks of field training before being released to patrol on his own.

Source: Being the same property conveyed to Peggy Jackson from Eugene Jackson and Carolyn Jackson, husband and wife, by General Warranty Deed dated August 5, 1997 and of record in Deed Book 205, Page 422 in the office of the Pendleton County Clerk, Falmouth, Kentucky.

This property is being sold to produce the following sums: (1) $2,853.55; (2) $6,594.75; (3) $97,211.56, together with accrued interest, costs and fees thereon to July 31, 2011 in the amount of $2,185.95 and interest thereafter at the rate of 6.7% until the entire amount has been paid in full; together with advancements for the protection of the property, including taxes and insurance (negative escrow); and reasonable attorneys' fees and court costs in the amount of $2,000.00; and (4) $3,231.71 together with accrued interest, costs and fees thereon to July 31, 2011 in the amount of $158.08 and interest thereafter at the rate of 7.9% until the entire amount has been paid in full; together with advancements for the protection of the property, including taxes and insurance (negative escrow); and reasonable attorneys' fees and court costs.

The property shall be sold upon the following terms and conditions:

- 1) The purchaser shall be required to pay ten percent (10%) of the purchase price on the date of the sale, to apply on the purchase price;
- 2) The balance of the purchase price shall be due and payable, in cash or certified funds, within sixty (60) days from the date of sale;
- 3) The purchaser shall be required to execute a bond, with good and sufficient surety thereon for the unpaid balance of the purchase price, said bond to bear interest at the rate of twelve percent (12%) per annum from the date of sale, until paid;
- 4) The purchaser shall have the privilege of paying all or any part of the purchase price or paying said bond before maturity by paying the balance of the principal, together with all accrued interest thereon;
- 5) The purchaser shall be required to assume and pay any and all ad valorem taxes on the subject property for the current year, and all subsequent taxes;
- 6) The purchaser shall be required to purchase fire and extended coverage insurance on said improvements from the date of sale until the purchase price is paid in full to the extent of the court appraised value of said improvements or the unpaid balance of the purchase price, whichever is less, with a loss clause payable to the Master Commissioner of the Pendleton Circuit Court and the Plaintiff herein.
- 7) The subject property shall be sold free and clear of all liens and claims of any party to this action, except restrictions and easements thereon appearing of record in the Pendleton County Clerk's Office, if any;
- 8) Possession of the subject property shall be given to the purchaser upon confirmation of Commissioner's sale, and the Defendants or any persons claiming through them shall have vacated the premises by that time; and
- 9) Said property shall be sold subject to:
 - a) Assessments for public improvements levied against the subject property,
 - b) Existing zoning ordinances, statutes, laws or regulations;
 - c) Any facts which an accurate survey or inspection of the property may disclose.

Bidders will be prepared to comply with these terms.

Students use store ads to prepare Thanksgiving menu

By: Jaden Potter

On Monday morning in Mrs. Tackett's class, we each had a pretend amount of $70 in our groups. We brought in grocery ads and used them to search up a Thanksgiving dinner for the whole class (of 23). Alanta's group won because they had a bunch of sugary things. Here's some: pizza, pumpkin pie, ice cream, cakes with whipped cream or icing, caramel apples, and coke to drink. We had lots of fun.

Energy assistance now available through NKCAC

Northern Kentucky Community Action Commission will be providing energy assistance through the Low Income Home Energy Assistance Program (LIHEAP). The Subsidy Section will run through December 14, 2012 at each of the agency's eight neighborhood centers. For the Subsidy Section, families do not need to have a cut off notice. Household's income must be at or below 130% of poverty or relative to household size below:

Household Size - Gross Income
1 - $1,211; 2 - $1,640; 3 - $2,069; 4 - $2,498; 5 - $2,927; 6 - $3,356; 7 - $3,785; 8 - $4,214

Applicants must also present the following:

Most recent heating bill or verification that heating expenses are included in rent (ex. lease agreement).

Social security card or official documentation with social security numbers for each member of the household.

Proof of all household income for the prior month.

Residents of Pendleton County please contact Pendleton County Neighborhood Center, 311 Park Street; Falmouth 41040 Phone: 859/654-4054.

The Crisis Component of LIHEAP begins on January 7, 2013 and will operate until funds are expended or March 31, 2013 whichever occurs first. For the Crisis Component of the program families must provide the documents mentioned previously and they must provide a disconnection notice or proof of being five days of running out of fuel. LIHEAP is a federally-funded program, operated in Northern Kentucky by Northern Kentucky Community Action Commission, in partnership with Community Action Kentucky and the Kentucky Cabinet for Health and Family Services.

Current version of GED test to expire at the end of 2013

Kentucky Adult Education encourages adults to finish and pass before test deadline

Kentucky Adult Education announced that the current version of the GED® test will expire at the end of 2013. The current version, known as the 2002 Series GED® test, will be replaced with the new 2014 GED® test on January 2, 2014.

The important point that Kentuckians need to know is this: people who have taken the 2002 Series GED® test, but have not passed all five parts, have only until December 18, 2013, to take the current test. If they do not pass all five parts by December 18, 2013, they will need to start over again in 2014 with the new GED® test. More than 16,000 Kentuckians have passed parts, but not all, of the current GED® test version.

"The GED® test opens doors to college, better jobs and the satisfaction of earning a high school credential," said Reece Stagnolia, vice president, Kentucky Adult Education. "We want to be sure everyone is aware of this deadline. GED® test-takers must act now to finish and pass before the current test expires."

Kentucky Adult Education offers free classes to help adults earn their GED®. To find an adult education center in your county, visit <http://www.know-howtogoky.org> or call toll free (800) 928-7323. GED® testing information is also available at <http://www.finishtheGED.com>. A couple of important tips you should know about GED® testing in Kentucky before the end of 2013:

- The last day to take the current version of the GED® test is December 18, 2013.

- All GED® test-takers must first pass the Official GED® Practice Test™, which is available at all local adult education programs.

"To anyone who has already started the GED® test, your future is calling. By passing the GED® test, you can answer that call," said Randy Trask, president and CEO of GED® Testing Service. "You owe it to yourself. Don't miss the chance to turn one small step into your next big opportunity in life."

Rachel's Challenge inspires students to "adopt an angel"

After seeing the Rachel's Challenge assembly, Phillip Sharp Middle School students have truly embraced random acts of kindness. The school is making a chain of kindness. Anyone who sees an act of kindness writes it down on a strip of paper. The strips are being looped together to create the chain.

Taking that idea and the spirit of Christmas, Sharp Middle School teacher Mrs. Keri Pettit asked her three classes if they'd like to adopt an angel for Christmas. Each class was more than willing to accept the challenge. As an added bonus and motivation, she offered "bubble gum days."

For a $1 donation, the students could buy a piece of bubble gum and chew it in class. She even found a cute and catchy youtube video about bubble gum that she played for several days. The idea of chewing gum in Mrs. Pettit's class was a huge motivator since she normally doesn't allow it in class due to the technology used.

The students have taken this to heart, bringing in change and using their own money to donate. One student, Grace Beebe, organized a texting reminder. The night before a "bubble gum day" she texts everyone in her class to remind them to bring money to give to their angel.

They've set a goal of $100 for each class to be reached by December 7. The classes have collected $50-75 each as of November 20. All money is being donated directly to the resource center to purchase Christmas for three local children.

"I'm so proud of the outpouring of love shown by my students," said Mrs. Pettit. "I'm truly blessed to have them in class. They teach me something new every day!"

Karen Davis Homemaker Club holds meeting

The Karen Davis Club met at the home of Loretta Simpson, Monday, November 12. A Thanksgiving meal was served and then the meeting was opened. Club reports were given and the South Family Resource Center Adopt a Child for Christmas list was passed out. They had an update on the Holiday Open House and Recipe for Life and Winter Wonderland schedules were given out to workers. The pillowcase project was discussed. A sewing day for the pillow cases will be January 21 and this year they will be donated to the Front Gate Mission House. The lesson Family Talk was given by Holly Nicol. Next month the club will meet at Amy Whitaker's house for their Christmas dinner and gifts for S.F.R. Adopt a child will be collected and will be delivered on Monday. Hope everyone had a wonderful Thanksgiving!

Ready to drop Thanksgiving pounds?

Did you spend the holiday weekend with a plate full of turkey, mashed potatoes, bread dressing, corn pudding, rolls and butter, ham, oyster dressing and mac & cheese? And then a second one? And then a third one? Then topped it off with a slice of pumpkin pie and a sliver of pecan pie and a nice piece of coconut pie?

And then you repeated it on Saturday and Sunday with leftovers sandwiched in between on Friday?

Now you feel that extra 5, 10, 15 pounds from this past weekend and spent Sunday in a food-induced coma?

Join the Griffin Fitness Center located at PCHS and work it off. It is a great deal with monthly, tri-monthly, 6-month or yearly deals. A membership works out to less than a dollar a day.

There are ellipse machines, treadmills and stationary bikes for cardiovascular and an wide assortment of weight machines for any strength program. In addition, a large number of free weights, bars and benches for a strength building program.

For more information, call 654-5800 or stop by during open hours of 5 p.m. - 9 p.m., Monday thru Friday.

Names needed for 'Shop With A Cop'

The Pendleton County Sheriff's office is now accepting children's names between the ages of 8-12 years old for their "Shop With A Cop" program.

Parents must have the child's name, address, age, phone number and parents names on an index card. Deadline to have the names into the office is Tuesday, December 18. You can mail them or drop them off at the sheriff's office at 202 Chapel Street, Falmouth, KY 41040

The "Shop With A Cop" will be held on Thursday, December 20, 2012. All are to meet at the sheriff's office at 5 p.m.

Brown

"Coach Brown is a true testament to the old sports adage that we are building young men not just athletes," PCHS Athletic Director Keith Smith said. "While on the field, he is teaching perseverance, dedication, and hard work in the guise of coaching football. Off the field, he takes boys and is helping turn them into young men."

Even though the Wildcats won just two games this season and failed to make the playoffs, KFCA still recognized coach Brown for his outstanding job with his football team.

"Not only does it show that I'm improving as a young head coach, which believe me I have a long way to go, but it shows that our entire football program is improving," Brown said. "This award is just a reflection of all the great people I have working around me and all those who have shown support and believed in our players."

Brown said this award goes to the hard work and dedication of his players, and he is nothing without their passion for the game of football.

"I'm just lucky to be in a position that I get to work with such great people," he explained. "Play fast, play strong!"

encouraging them to pursue a college degree and/or technical training after graduation from high school. Whether one is eighteen and has just finished high school or one has been out of school for several years, the decision to return to the classroom can be daunting. The admissions and financial aid process can seem intimidating and overwhelming. One on one mentoring and encouragement are important to helping students to take that first step towards pursuing a degree that will literally change the trajectory of their lives.

The coaching and mentoring aspect of his position helping PCHS students will transfer seamlessly to his job as Gateway's student services representative. Many prospective Gateway students are non-traditional. They have been out of school for several years and already have busy lives and many responsibilities. They may be wondering if it is really possible to go back to school, continue to meet their obligations, and pay for a degree all at the same time. They need encouragement and help with the planning process that is necessary to accomplish their goal. Adam's position will be a portal through which current and future Gateway students will be able to access all of the services Gateway provides so that they can be successful in reaching their goal of technical training or a degree.

First Lady announces Thanksgiving themed reading list

In an effort to increase youth readership, first lady Jane Beshear today announced her Top 10 Fall Reading as a part of the first lady's reading recommendations initiative. The theme of the 2012 autumnal list is Thanksgiving.

"The Thanksgiving holiday is a time for reflection, celebration and gratitude," said Mrs. Beshear. "It is an excellent opportunity to teach students lessons of cooperation and how to respect the environment. Many of my selections on this list highlight Native American culture and emphasize the art of storytelling and the importance of nature in our lives."

Mrs. Beshear introduced the Reading Recommendations program in the summer of 2009 and issues reading lists four times per year.

2012 Fall Reading List

1. "Brother Eagle, Sister Sky" by Susan Jeffers (Ages 4 – 8) – "The story is an adaptation of a speech delivered by Chief Seattle at treaty negotiations in the 1850s. The chief's message of embracing nature and respecting the land are especially relevant in today's culture. This story's eloquent and imaginative words are paired with emotive color drawings that will help instill the importance of environmental consciousness in young readers."

2. "The Last of the Mohicans" by James Fenimore Cooper (Ages 12 & up) – "First published in 1826, this classic novel is an outstanding fictional depiction of the early American frontier. Set during the French and Indian War, the story follows a white woodsman named Hawk-eye and his Mohican Indian comrade Chingachgook, as they join forces to help the daughters of a white military officer travel through hostile territory in upstate New York."

3. "Corn is Maize" by Alik (Ages 4 – 8) – "In this story, the author gives a simple description of how corn was discovered and used by the Indians, and how it came to be an important food throughout the world. This book combines science and history through words and colorful illustrations that will not only entertain young readers, but also help them learn."

4. "Ten Little Rabbits" by Virginia Grossman (Ages 1 & up) – "This spirited book celebrates Native American traditions of weaving, dancing and storytelling as it teaches very young readers how to count from one to ten. The detailed, vivid illustrations of the rabbits and their blankets are truly eye-catching and the simple, rhyming text helps expound the numerical lesson."

5. "If You Were At The First Thanksgiving" by Anne Kamma (Ages 6 – 10) – "Told from a child's viewpoint, this book portrays what it was like to be a part of the first Thanksgiving day. It tells how the Native Americans and Pilgrims came together for the historic harvest celebration and offers an account of what it was like to live in America in the 1620's."

6. "The Journal of Jasper Jonathan Pierce: A Pilgrim Boy, Plymouth, 1620" by Ann Rinaldi (Ages 9 - 12) – "Jasper Pierce is a young Puritan boy who travels on from England to America on the Mayflower. This story is an account of Jasper's distinctive experiences on the boat and his first year in the 'New World.' This book puts an inventive, historical twist on a classic coming of age story."

7. "Arrow to the Sun" by Gerald Dermott (Ages 3 – 6) – "This Caldecott Medal book is filled with bold and stunning pictures that capture the spirit of Pueblo Art. The story expresses the classic tale of hero's quest and depicts Native Americans' respect for the sun and life."

8. "Arilla Sun Down" by Virginia Hamilton (Grades 9 - 12) – "This young adult novel follows 12-year-old Arilla Adams on her journey to discover and understand who she is. Arilla is used to standing in her older, successful and talented brother's shadow. Like her brother, Arilla is part Native American and part African American, but unlike her brother, she struggles to find her place in the world. I know many adolescent readers will identify with Arilla and her path to self-discovery."

9. "One Little, Two Little, Three Little Pilgrims" by B.G. Hennessey (Ages 2 – 5) – "This story follows 10 young pilgrims and 10 young Wampanoag children as they hunt and gather food for Thanksgiving dinner. When they all come together for dinner, everyone gives thanks, eats and celebrates. The rhythmic text paired with vibrant autumn colors will keep very young readers engaged with this Thanksgiving tale."

10. "The Legend of the Indian Paintbrush" by Tomie dePaola (Ages 4 – 8) – "Filled with beautiful and vivid illustrations, this book describes the spirited legend of a young artist and how the sunset came to be colorful. The story's protagonist is a young boy named Gopher who is not skilled enough to be a warrior in his tribe, but becomes a talented artist. He learns to use the resources and environment around him to recreate the magnificent colors of the sunset in his work."

NOTICE

Please take notice that Duke Energy Kentucky, Inc. has applied to the Kentucky Public Service Commission for approval to revise its Demand Side Management (DSM) rate for electric service and gas service for residential and commercial customers. Duke Energy Kentucky's current monthly DSM rate for residential gas customers is ($0.061391) per hundred cubic feet and for non-residential gas customers is $0.000000 per hundred cubic feet. Duke Energy Kentucky's current monthly DSM rate for residential electric customers is $0.003093 per kilowatt-hour and for non-residential customers is $0.001036 per kilowatt-hour for distribution service and $0.000761 per kilowatt-hour for transmission service.

Duke Energy Kentucky seeks approval to revise these rates as follows: Duke Energy Kentucky's monthly DSM rate for residential gas customers would increase to ($0.039396) per hundred cubic feet and for non-residential gas customers would remain at $0.000000 per hundred cubic feet. Duke Energy Kentucky's monthly DSM rate for residential electric customers would decrease to $0.001988 per kilowatt-hour and for non-residential customers would increase to $0.001104 per kilowatt-hour for distribution service and would increase to $0.001070 per kilowatt-hour for transmission service.

The rate contained in this notice is the rate proposed by Duke Energy Kentucky. However, the Public Service Commission may order a rate to be charged that differs from this proposed rate. Such action may result in a rate for consumers other than the rate in this notice. The foregoing rates reflect a proposed decrease in electric revenues of approximately $0.72 million or 0.23% over current total electric revenues and an increase of $1.41 million or 1.55% over current gas revenues.

Any corporation, association, body politic or person may by motion within thirty (30) days after publication or mailing of notice of the proposed rate changes request leave to intervene. The motion shall be submitted to the Public Service Commission, 211 Sower Boulevard, P.O. Box 615, Frankfort, Kentucky 40602, and shall set forth the grounds for the request including the status and interest of the party. Intervenors may obtain copies of the application and testimony by contacting Duke Energy Kentucky through Ms. Kristen Cocanougher, Duke Energy, 139 East Fourth Street, 1212 Main, Cincinnati, Ohio 45201-0960. A copy of the application is also available for public inspection at Duke Energy Kentucky's office at 4580 Olympic Boulevard, Erlanger, Kentucky 41018.

Advice on how to avoid scammers around the holiday

Scammers are busy this time of the year! Whether it's on the internet, at the stores, or even at your front door...they are ready to take your hard-earned cash! Here are some tips from the BBB on scams to look out for.

Internet Scams: Be on the lookout for fake websites offering bargain prices, especially on those hard to find gifts, or the hot gifts for 2012. These sites tout "too-good-to-be-true" prices on these items, with a professional looking website and testimonials from "happy customers." The scam artists will take your money, won't send you the merchandise! Don't just trust a site – check it out at www.bbb.org. Also, when shopping online, use a credit card, not your debit card. Debit cards are directly linked to your bank account, and if you never get your merchandise or it isn't what was promised, you can dispute the charges with your credit card company.

Phishing Scams: You are contacted by email with a very tempting offer or a warning that your account has been compromised, and then you are directed to click on a link, which takes you to a fake website. Once there, you're told to enter personal and financial information wanted by the thieves. Don't click on links in unsolicited emails!

Gift Card Scams. Many gift cards hang on racks in stores or at checkout counters. Today, most cards are protected by scratch-off security codes and protective packaging to prevent information theft. However, if cards aren't protected, scam artists can write down the numbers while the cards are on display, and then call an 800 number to learn when the cards have been activated.

Holiday E-card Scams: You receive an eGreeting from an unnamed "relative," or "friend." You have to click on the link to view it. However, clicking on the link may unleash spyware, pop-up ads, viruses, or Trojans. In some cases, nothing bad happens until you download software from the e-card website so you can "run your e-card." If there is any question of who the card came from, don't open it! Also, be sure you have the latest anti-virus and anti-spyware software installed on your computer.

Charity-Related Scams: Scammers will call you on the phone or knock on your front door. They'll wear seasonal outfits, dress in familiar looking uniforms, and carry forms of identification that look real. They'll convince you to give with stories that tug at your heart. Before you give, do your homework. Check out the charity at www.give.org. Don't fall for high-pressure tactics. Avoid "charities" whose representatives won't answer reasonable questions, such as how the money will be spent. Never supply credit card information over the phone, and never give cash or write checks payable to an individual solicitor.

Delivery Scams: It's reasonable to expect deliveries at this time of the year. In this case, you receive a card saying an unsuccessful attempt was made to deliver a package to your home and that you should call a particular number for more details. You call the number and get a recorded message or music that keeps you on the line for a while. Unfortunately, you are connected to an overseas number, (known as the 809 scam), and you will be charged high rates on your next phone bill. If the number is not a 1-800 or local call, it could be a scam. This scam also comes in the form of emails. You receive an email from what appears to be UPS or FEDEX, saying you have a package that needs to be picked up. The email asks you to click on a link to download a form. If you download the form, your computer becomes infected.

Job scams: Many retailers and manufacturers need to take on extra staff to handle the holiday rush. Knowing this, scam artists send out emails promising non-existent jobs for which, you'll eventually be asked to pay a fee for the job. You may see similar ads in newspaper classifieds and even flyers or signs posted around town. Never pay for a job!

2012 PCHS FALL SPORTS BANQUET

By Bruce Reller, Jr., Reporter

The Pendleton County High School Wildcats are ready for the upcoming basketball season. Under first year head coach Ed Cravens, the Wildcats hope to have another exciting season.

"We want to continue the district tournament run. We expect to continue that trend," coach Cravens said. "We've won the district three years in a row."

The Wildcats will be relying on their seniors heavily this season. Guards Mason Monroe and Garrett Appleman and center Ethan Moore will be key players this year.

Also, Pendleton County will need plenty of production from center Andrew Antrobus and guards Aaron Gibson and MacKenzie Colvin.

"We want to run an up-tempo style of ball," Cravens explained. "We want to use as many players as we can. We want to press, trap, and rotate. We want to push the ball up and play pressure defense."

He continued, "We want to wear teams down. We want to take the best good shot we can. We want to control the tempo of the game."

The Wildcats will have to make up for some of their key players last season who have graduated. Gabe Antrobus was one of the leading scorers last year, and Jared Rering was a big asset to the team.

"When you lose players of that caliber, other players have to step up," Cravens said. "They are working harder and pushing themselves."

Pendleton County has to prove they are a team to reckon with in the region. According to Cats Pause, the Wildcats are not one of the top ten teams in the region. Even Nicholas County is ahead of PC in the region.

"We need to regain some pride in that aspect," Cravens explained. "The kids took that to heart. They need to light a fire underneath them. They need to have a sense of complacency."

The Wildcats have a tough schedule ahead of them. Harrison County is their number one district foe, and they have everyone coming back for them. Pendleton plays the Thoroughbreds at home on January 25.

PC will begin the season at Scott High School on November 30. Scott is ranked in the top three in the region. The Wildcats will also play Covington Catholic, Bishop Brossart, Mason County, and George Rogers Clark this year.

"We have a lot of tough opponents. We have a lot of battleships to start off with," Cravens said. "Our biggest player is 6'5". The Wildcats played in a Panorama scrimmage against Silver Grove on Saturday, November 17. Pendleton County put up 112 points in the victory.

"We played pretty well. We executed fairly well. We had a few turnovers," Cravens said about his team. "We have another scrimmage against Gallatin County."

Coach Cravens hopes people come out and support his basketball team this season. He wants everyone to stay positive and support them.

Jones to be honored with retirement of baseball number

Through hard work, dedication and commitment, Nate Jones rose from the baseball field of Volunteer Park at Eiler's Field behind Pendleton County High School to the mound of NKU Baseball Field and eventually to the Comiskey Park in Chicago home of the White Sox.

He made his debut versus the Texas Rangers and came through the television screen larger than life when he struck out reigning MVP Josh Hamilton.

Now, the Pendleton County Wildcats baseball team is honoring Nate Jones by retiring his jersey and hosting a Nate Jones night at the PC Wildcats basketball game versus Augusta on Thursday, December 6.

There will be festivities throughout the night culminating with the retirement of the #24 by the PC Wildcats at half-time.

Come out and join the PC Cat Nation in honoring Nate for his accomplishments and thanking him for being a great representative of PCHS and Pendleton County.

11/29: Ladycats vs Bracken County (away) - 8 p.m.

12/01: Wildcats vs GRC at PCHS - 3 p.m.

GOOD LUCK WILDCATS AND LADYCATS!

Ladycats basketball team hungry for district title

"We want to win district I think from top to bottom all the girls will tell you the same thing." PCHS Ladycat Varsity Coach Scott Collins said matter-of-factly. "We want to get into the region and see how far of a run we can make."

The Ladycat Class of 2013 has had much success through their progression from 6th grade to varsity and in their senior year, they are looking to make a run to the 10th Region Championship game that no Ladycat team has ever made.

Making up the Senior class of Ladycats are: Point Guard Ashten Wolfe, Shooting Guard Bradi Boden, Center Heather Jolley, Forward Tori Fitzpatrick and Guard Jennifer Dixon.

They have had a test of post-season success.

As freshmen, they were a part of the Ladycats' 38th District Championship team. It was only the 4th time in school history that a Ladycat team could claim the 38th District Title and the first in 14 years.

As sophomores, they were a part of the Ladycats team that made the 10th Region Semifinals game. It too was only the 4th time in school history that a Ladycat team won their first round game in the regional tournament.

This a talented and deep team that only lost one senior from last year's team, Coach Collins' Ladycats have all the building blocks to accomplish a deep run in the post season play.

And it will be keyed by the Senior class.

"Our seniors bring loads of talent to meet our expectations this season." Coach Collins commented on his seniors.

The lead trio of Ashten Wolfe, Heather Jolley and Bradi Boden have over 200 varsity games of experience and loads of talent.

Wolfe is a cerebral player that is a coach's daughter and knows the ins and outs of a basketball game. She can drain the 3 or head fake and drive to the hole.

Boden is a deadly 3-point shooter who can fill it up from behind the arc. But she contributes as much on the defensive end with her pressure and has developed into arguably the 2nd best rebounder on the Ladycat team.

Jolley is a force inside. A force offensively that is unstoppable when she decides to dominate. A force defensively that intimidates the opposing team causing them to not want to venture inside.

Complementing the trio is Tori Fitzpatrick who Coach Collins calls "one of the smartest players I have ever coached who sees things on the floor that other players won't."

Jennifer Dixon adds depth at guard who plays with a passion, hard defense and can knock down the open outside jumper.

Last season, the Ladycats had a very young bench. Kristen Smith was the only senior and Fitzpatrick was out for injury. While they were young last year, the benefit comes this year.

Junior Taylor McClanahan started for most of the season and the post player can score and rebound. She will be able to provide depth at a thin inside game. Taylor can easily be a double figure scorer and grab 6-7 rebounds a game. She does that while providing good defense and it will be a big boon to Coach Collins' team.

The sophomore class is a class loaded with talent like the senior class.

Isabella Hall has been playing varsity point guard since the 8th grade and McKayla Manor was a key 3-point shooter and strong defender last season. Hall will be in the starting lineup and will give another coach's daughter on the floor who is a smart player.

Manor might be the surprise of the season. A very good 3-point shooter who brings a physical, defensive game from the soccer field to the basketball court. Something that the Ladycats will need based on preseason scrimmages.

"We are still playing too much defense with our hands and picking up cheap fouls instead of moving our feet." Coach Collins commented on preseason play.

Bailey Wanstrath, Catlyne Nuckels and Amber Blackaby all showed flashes of strong play last year as a freshmen during their freshmen and JV seasons last year. Wanstrath is lightning quick who is still learning how to use her quickness to put herself in position to help her team. Nuckels is a good 3-point shooter and Blackaby will provide some post depth. Newcomer Raven Bruin finishes out the varsity roster.

The Ladycats kick off their season Thursday night at the Bracken County tip off v host Bracken County at 8:00. They travel back to Brooksville on Friday night to play Covington Latin at 6:30. Their first home game is Friday, December 7th vs Villa Madonna at 7:30.

The JV/Freshmen squads actually will play first as they host Bracken County on Wednesday night in a doubleheader with first game schedule to tip off at 5:30 PCHS.

The defensive end will be where the Ladycats will need to show whether they are true 10th Region contenders or pretenders.

Offensively, they are 10th Region contenders. They set many school records for 3-pointers last season and return a deadly list of shooters. Boden may be the best 3-point shooter in the region while Wolfe constantly hit big 3's last year. Hall and Manor are very good shooters and TMac can step out of the post and knock down a 3-pointer.

With all of the shooters on the floor, it opens up the inside play for Jolley, TMac and Fitzpatrick.

Adding to the offensive firepower that the Ladycats have, Coach Collins has been preaching a tempo that has the Cats out and running.

I think our ball movement has been great as far as penetrating and kicking out to our shooters in both scrimmages." He pointed out.

He continued, "In both scrimmages, they are becoming comfortable with moving the ball up the floor at a crisp tempo."

While PC is arguably the favorite to win the 38th District Title, Coach Collins' is not buying it.

"Maybe on paper but the true favorite is the team who has the hungriest players the ones that want to work that extra hour in practice, not slack off when running the last seven of the day or take the lead when the team really needs them during the game. Class means nothing it all comes down to heart."

So, the question as the season is ready to kickoff is how hungry are these Ladycats?

RELIGION

BLANKET CREEK

The choir opened with Build Me a Sanctuary and later sang a special Give Thanks.

Scripture for the message titled The Great Exchange came from II Corinthians 8:9.

Jesus became poor so we could be rich. He makes us rich in grace. He will turn your sorrows into joy and give you peace. We should always study and be in prayer and receive God's righteousness. Our lives are nothing but a space between life and death. If there ever was a time to step out in faith and accept Jesus Christ as your Savior it is now. John Poe came to the altar and rededicated his life to the Lord today. The ladies enjoyed a day out at Cheddars after services.

Please pray for Brenda Rarick, Monica Wilson and the family of Robert Fields and the rest of our prayer concerns.

Sunday school begins at 9:45 a.m. worship at 11 a.m. choir practice at 6 p.m. youth group and evening worship 7 p.m. Sundays.

BUTLER BAPTIST

The day started with the baptism of Sklyer Higgenbottom. Brother Daryl's message was from Colossians 1:24-29 titled "A passion for proclaiming Christ." The church needs leaders who are willing to suffer for others. Jesus labored daily for others. He expects us to do the same and build the church by what we say and do. Leaders in the church are chosen by God. The church is a ministry that focuses on sharing God with others. Leaders are called to share the word of God. Jesus lives within the heart of believers and we can live with him forever with him in glory. Leaders set the standards that others will follow. You cannot enter heaven without a relationship with Jesus. Leaders rely on Jesus for energy. They do not work just when it is convenient. They experience power and energy as they labor for Jesus. When we go forward into the world to share Jesus with enthusiasm, people will want to know your message.

BUTLER CHRISTIAN

BUTLER METHODIST

The end of time! When will it happen? No one knows, but we want to know. We can't hasten or stop it. The world is in His hands. What do we do in the meantime while we wait? Keep watch, keep awake, keep faithful, watch.

The Butler Community Thanksgiving service was held here on Wednesday evening. Many thanks to the local ministers who participated and to Daryl Mullins for bringing the message for the evening service.

The men gave out many turkey and fixings boxes to local families on Saturday. Thanks fellows, you do a wonderful ministry.

The ladies and guests will be attending the Advent concert at the Cathedral in Covington and then have dinner at Pompilios on December 2 and they will have their annual Christmas party on December 8.

Please pray for Ressie Hall, Benjamin Poe, Lila Dicken, Kayla Gay, Bobbie Siebel, Jackie Smith, Ken Campbells father, those traveling during the holidays, Rich Marksberry, Beverly Salerno, Monica Wilson, Margo, Betty Bay, Shirley Mains, Mark Mullikin and everyone who does not have a church home.

We welcome you this Advent season to our church with open arms and a loving heart.

FALMOUTH BAPTIST

Here's hoping that everyone had a wonderful Thanksgiving this year. No matter what our earthly circumstances are, because of Jesus we have a lot to be thankful for.

Bro. Cohen's message reminded us of some of the things we can be thankful for. We can be thankful that God is mindful of us. He first loved us so we can love Him. He loves us more! We can be thankful that God tells us like it is. We can also be thankful that God is patient with us, He cares for us, and He forgives us. He has demonstrated His intentions and for that we can have peace. We can be thankful that He will never leave nor forsake us and we can be thankful that He is preparing a place for us and that He is coming back again for us. Wow, we do have a lot to be thankful for!

FALMOUTH CHRISTIAN

The Falmouth Christian Church welcomed Brother Wayne Keith this week to fill Brother Rick's position as he has been under the weather. His sermon was taken from Proverbs 3. He stressed the fact that we all have bad (rotten) days. It's how we deal with them that matters. We must remember that God is aware of our needs; He is consistent; He is capable; and we must lean on Him in our time of need and not on our own understanding.

Preparations are being made for our annual Thanksgiving/Christmas dinner on December 2 following the worship service. Santa will be making a special appearance for the children after lunch.

Falmouth Christian will be presenting a live nativity scene program on December 14, 15 and 16. There will be two presentations, the first starting at 5:30 p.m. followed by refreshments and the second starting at 7 p.m. followed by refreshments. Bring your families and friends and join us in celebrating the birth of Jesus Christ. Anticipation is running high among members, and we hope this program proves to be a blessing for everyone. Transportation will be made available on Sunday evening only. Call the church at 859-654-2741 if you need a ride.

Our annual toy drive will be held on December 22 at the church. More information will be available at a later date.

This week don't forget to pray for all those with so many needs. Come join us every Sunday with Sunday school at 9:30 a.m. and worship service at 10:45 a.m.

May God's blessings be with each of you this week!

FALMOUTH METHODIST

The frenzy of the Christmas season has begun. At each onset of this time of year I typically hear people comment that they want to be more on top of things and not get caught-up short at the last minute. Some thrive on the chaos; others despise it. Some hearts are really warmed by giving, others are more Scrooge-like. Some wish the season would last longer, others can't wait for it to be over. If only we knew the secret of the season. Several years ago, Jimmy Van Heusen wrote the words and music to a song called "The secret of Christmas." In it he reveals what he believes is the secret "It's not the things you do at Christmas time, but the Christmas things you do all year through."

Wouldn't it be wonderful to carry the spirit of the Christmas throughout the year! What's stopping us?

FIRST BAPTIST

Greetings! Bro. Harry blessed us with special music this Sunday. Bro. Harry's message was taken from Colossians. Sometimes we have to go through trials, troubles, tribulations and turmoil, but God is always there to protect us. We need to thank God for all He has given us.

We want to thank everyone who donated items or gave money for our Operation Christmas Child. We are still collecting items for our military box.

Sunday evening was our Community Thanksgiving Service at Falmouth United Methodist Church. Bro. Harry did a wonderful job bringing the message. Adam Crozier blessed us with special music for the program.

"See that no one repays another with evil for evil, but always seek after that which is good for one another and for all people."
~ I Thessalonians 5:15

Pray for the lost, the sick, those who have lost loved ones and our military.

"God supplies our needs, not our greeds!"

HARVEST

Sunday morning November 18 we had two morning services. Our first annual Gobbler Give-away was held at Veterans Park with services led by Bro. Damian and our youth "Fully Charged." It was a huge success and they are looking forward to next year.

Service at church was led by Bro. Dale. His message was titled, "Almost Persuaded" based on scripture text of Acts 26:28.

"Fully Charged" has begun practice for "Lightning Hands." They at 6 p.m., on Sunday and Wednesday evenings.

Prayer concerns: Barry Mains, Dee Browning, Greta King, Jonathan Pugh, Mary Lou Orr, and Kristen and the family of Neva Cobb.

As the holiday season has begun, we look forward to decorating the church, enjoying the holiday meals and the time of sharing in fellowship. We invite you to join us at 111 E. Shelby Street; 9:30 a.m. Bible study, 10:30 a.m. and 6 p.m., worship services, Sundays and 6 p.m., Wednesday evening prayer service.

MORGAN

The Apostle Paul tells us, "Since we are surrounded by so great a cloud of witnesses, let us put aside every weight and sin that clings to us, and run with perseverance that race that is set before us, looking to Christ the pioneer and perfecter of our faith."

Perhaps we have withdrawn into our own safe cocoons when we feel bombarded by all the changes in the world today. Yet, today is a good time for God's people to burst the cocoon and invite others to see and experience the butterfly that can emerge.

MT. CARMEL

"Give thanks to Yahweh; proclaim His name!" Isaiah 12:4

The youth will be leading a "Hanging of the Green" service at 6:30 p.m., on Sunday, November 25. This service will share the meanings of our holiday decorating and traditions and how they center on Christ. Each family is asked to bring an ornament to represent their family that they will hang on our church family's Christmas tree. Any youth interested in participating, please see Lori Dunn. We hope to see you there so we can start the Christmas season focused on the true meaning of Christmas.

* Christmas Card Exchange starts November 25 and ends on December 12.

* We will be having our Christmas meal after the morning services December 2.

We invite you to visit our website www.themcbbc.com

MT. MORIAH

Upcoming events are : Hanging of the greens, at 7 p.m., November 30; First Sunday of Advent December 2; White Christmas program at Falmouth Baptist at 7 p.m. on December 9, Mt. Moriah will sing; Church potluck Christmas dinner, noon, December 16; Children's Christmas presentation at 10:45 a.m. and Christmas candle lighting service at 7 p.m., on December 23.

"God whispers to us in our pleasures, speaks to us in our conscience, but shouts in our pains; it is His megaphone to rouse a deaf world." C.S. Lewis

NEW HOPE

Should we only give God thanks once a year? Christmas follows Thanksgiving. Too often during Christmas, we are upset about what we do not have. Kids cry over on gift they did not receive. A spouse is upset because their husband/wife did not buy them what they really wanted. Parents are upset because they could not afford what their child asked for. We rush to the stores to buy what we think we are missing. It is sad that after we thank God for everything that He gave us that we start crying to Him about everything we do not have that we think will make us happy (even though it will not make us happy). Thanksgiving should be an attitude that we have all year. Be sure to give thanks to God for all the wonderful things that He gave us all year long.

NEW ZION

Come join us for worship. Sunday school starts at 10 a.m., morning worship at 11 a.m. and evening worship starts at 6:30 p.m.

Upcoming opportunities: There will be a meeting of the Planning Committee at 5:30 p.m., November 25; there will be a WMU Christmas party and deacon's meeting at 5:30 p.m. on December 2 and following the WMU's Christmas party there will be a Christmas celebration for the entire church; fruit basket delivery and Christmas caroling at 4 p.m. with cookies and hot chocolate afterwards December 9; there will be a special play practice for the CrossFire Crew at 6 p.m., December 14; and both the CrossFire Crew and the L.A.M.B.S. will be performing Christmas plays at 11 a.m., December 16 with the L.A.M.B.S. Christmas party following at about 12:30 p.m.

Please remember in prayer Richard and Bertha Franks, Alexi Beame, Angie Hemphill, Kayla Hemphill, Paula Ruf, Carol Polley, Ford Eversole, Christine Gill, David, Frankie and Gena, Robert Berry, Edna Babfield, Eddie Gableman, Clyde Groves, JT Harding, Scott and Jeanie Cooper, Butch Florence, Betty Hollands, Tammy Stewart, Daisy Whalen, Lee Brown, Norma Devio, Petie Williams, the Slusher family and all of our men and women in uniform. Also remember to pray daily for our country and it's leaders. James 5:16 (Confess your faults one to another, and pray one for another, that ye may be healed. The effectual fervent prayer of a righteous man availeth much.)

OAKLAND CHRISTIAN

If you drive by Oakland, you will see that our City of Bethlehem is up and awaiting visitors on December 1, 2. Time is 6 to 8:30 p.m. This is a free event, so bring your family (dress warmly) and come take a walk through. This is our gift to the community.

Bro. Jim reminded us, that as Christians, we are called, expected, and empowered to change the world. We must redeem the time.

SOUTHSIDE

We opened the morning service with the hymn, "Jesus, We Just Want to Thank You" on November 18. Brother Clay Sullivan preached the sermon, "Thanksgiving of 2012, grateful to whom, my dear?" from I Thessalonians 5:16-18. There are three things we want to make sure we do when we are thankful: 1. Make sure that you are thankful to the right somebody 2. Make sure you thank God for the right reasons 3. Even though bad things happen to God's people, we can still praise God! The memory verse for the week comes from I Thessalonians 5:18, "Give thanks in all circumstances, for this is God's will for you in Christ Jesus." Amen!

Be in prayer for all in one way or another.

Come and worship with us at 9 a.m. this Sunday. Sunday school and 10 a.m. worship service. Have a great day!

TRINITY

Blessings from us at Trinity. It is our prayer that everyone had a wonderful Thanksgiving. Thank you to everyone who made it possible to continue with our Thanksgiving tradition by serving and delivering meals to those in need. God has and will continue to be given all the praise and glory.

There is no other nation on the face of the earth that should be more thankful than the United States of America. We are still able to worship God openly, not in secret. Exodus 34:6-7 shows us why we should be thankful... "And the Lord passed by before him and proclaimed, The Lord, The Lord God, merciful and gracious, long-suffering, and abundant in goodness and truth." "Forgiving iniquity and transgression and sin." We pray that everyone was able to be thankful to our Lord God almighty! God is still in control and continues to bless us all. Please remember to thank God for all the blessings He has given you.

TURNER RIDGE

Sunday, November 18 wrapped up a season of collecting! The youth and children carried in the 122 Operation Christmas Child boxes that had been filled on Wednesday night and we joined in prayer asking God to share with children across the world the "joy" and love of Jesus Christ.

Bro. Dale then recognized October Youth Incentive Winners, Chloe Baumgartner-Middle School, Bailey Boden-High School and Raven Koettel-C4 class. The congregation sang hymns of Thanksgiving and "The Ridge Ringers" had special music, give thanks. "Thanksgiving music" was the focus of the children's message. Garrad Dennie read scripture II Corinthians 4:16-18 and Bro. Dale's sermon. Thanksgiving because of grace, was a time for everyone to reflect on God's grace for His people. A time for us to reflect on if we are living life with thanksgiving... sharing our faith, glorifying God, renewing our spirit day by day and planning for eternal life. "For all things are for your sakes, that the abundant grace might through the thanksgiving of many redound to the glory of God." II Corinthians 4:15.

YOUR LITTLE COUNTRY CHURCH

We had guest speaker on Sunday, Bro. and Sister Bills from Bro. Bills delivered the message on Sunday.

Sunday night's message included the fact to remember that God is still in control. St. John 14:1 where Jesus said, "let not your heart be troubled, you believe in God believe also in me."

Wednesday's Bible study continues in the Gospel of John.

Upcoming Events: Christmas program is schedule December 16; following regular scheduled service as weather permits.

Everyone is welcome! For inquiries call 859.472.1804.

The new roof at Mt. Gilead is finished and what a wonderful job thanks to Best Case Farm. Workers shown in photo are Tim Shumate, Ben Gann and Scott Ramsey. Picture taken by Clay Jones.

Mt. Gilead has a brand new roof

Wonderful things can happen. Over the past few years we talked about how the church needs a new roof. If you want a surprise, go to the old church and look at that beautiful roof.

The Best Case Farm supplied the materials and workers to complete the job in four days.

The roof was completed in honor of Charlene Oliver. Charlene was a major leader in the church. Her passing didn't stop her. Memories of Charlene continue to cause us to continue working and caring for the old church.

The workers Tim Shamate, Ben Gann and Scott Ramsey made the old building look beautiful again. Thanks fellows for a job well done. All of us who love Mt. Gilead Church, thank you and we continue to include you in our prayers.

Suggestions: Drive out to Mt. Gilead the next nice Sunday afternoon and enjoy the view.

Preparing for Winter Weather

With old man winter just around the corner, it's important to closely follow local weather forecasts and warnings and be familiar with seasonal weather terminology. This knowledge could save lives.

Listening to a Specific Area Message Encoding (SAME) Weather Radio is one of the best ways to monitor severe winter weather notices. These radios only receive weather alerts for your specific county or the surrounding area. SAME Weather Radios provide an alerting tone when the weather-watching tone occurs for your particular county or designated area.

You also can keep up with severe weather reports by listening to a National Oceanic and Atmospheric Administration (NOAA) Weather Radio. Part of a nationwide network of radio stations, this radio broadcasts National Weather Service warnings, watches, forecasts and other hazard information 24 hours a day.

Severe winter weather can completely immobilize an area. Heavy snow, blizzards or ice storms are a potential killer of people, pets and livestock. So when weather forecasts predict extremely harsh weather, make advance safety plans in case the conditions develop.

Explanations about some winter weather terms you might learn about on radio or television broadcasts are listed below.

A winter storm warning is issued in anticipation of a combination of heavy snow, freezing rain or sleet. This warning usually is issued six to 24 hours before the weather is expected to begin.

A winter storm watch alerts you to the possibility of a blizzard, heavy snow, freezing rain or sleet. It usually is given 12 to 36 hours before the beginning of the storm.

A winter storm outlook is issued prior to a winter storm watch, usually 48 to 60 hours in advance of a winter storm. The outlook is issued when forecasters believe winter weather conditions are possible.

A blizzard warning is given for sustained or gusty winds of 35 miles per hour or more, and falling or blowing snow that limits visibility to one-fourth mile or less. These conditions should persist for at least three hours.

The wind chill is based on the rate of heat loss from exposed skin caused by the combined effects of wind and cold. An advisory is issued when wind chill temperatures are expected to be between 20 degrees below 0 or colder. If temperatures are predicted to be 35 degrees below or colder, a wind chill warning is given.

When accumulations of snow, freezing rain, freezing drizzle and sleet cause significant inconvenience and moderately dangerous conditions, a winter weather advisory is issued.

Freezing rain falls on a surface with a temperature at or below freezing. Sleet is rain drops that freeze into ice pellets before reaching the ground. Both can cause damaging and dangerous ice accumulations.

Visit the UK Agricultural Weather Center at <http://www.wag-wx.ca.uky.edu> or contact the Pendleton County Cooperative Extension Service to find out more about winter weather and preparation for severe conditions.

SHELLEY MEYER, 4-H/YOUTH DEVELOPMENT

Teaching the importance of compassion

The holiday season is a time for giving thanks and giving back. Now is the perfect time of year to teach children the importance of community service and nurture the spirit of giving.

Start by choosing a charity in your own community. Then talk to youth about the kinds of charities they would like to support. If an organization is looking for food donations, give your children the money you want to spend on donations and let them choose the food items at the grocery stores. Thoughtful selections give them a chance to think about what some who are less fortunate might need.

For young children, it may mean more to donate time by helping out a community service organization like a soup kitchen, for example. They can help by doing small chores like decorating the tables, making sure there are napkins laid out and handing out silverware.

Twins and teens, on the other hand, might find it more meaningful to raise money for a particular cause. They could do some chores around the house and neighborhood to raise money to donate.

Another way to instill the importance of community service is through volunteering, which teaches valuable lessons. Taking part in projects like cleaning up school grounds, clothing drives and toy drives can help give children a sense of community and what it means to take action.

While working at a toy drive, for instance, let the children sort the toys according to age group and gender. These and similar tasks teach organizational skills as well as the ability to care.

If you decide to participate in buying Christmas presents for a child who is less fortunate, let your children make the decisions on what to buy. Usually there is a dollar limit, so it is a good challenge for your children to use the money wisely.

Whatever "giving-back" path you decide, adults should also be committed to serving others and willing to work alongside youth. This sends the message that adults are not only encouraging, but are proud to support the same charities youth believe in.

No matter the strategy, your focus on reinforcing a child's compassion for others is a key to helping them become caring adults.

For more information on volunteering and community service projects, contact the Pendleton County Cooperative Extension Service.

Get over the river and through the woods safely this Christmas season

The Kentucky Transportation Cabinet (KYTC) encourages motorists across the state to prepare their vehicles for holiday travel and winter weather.

"Motorist safety is our foremost concern," said Transportation Secretary Mike Hancock. "Taking a few precautions now will help make holiday trips safer, and drivers will be better prepared should a cold weather emergency occur."

According to the National Highway Traffic Safety Administration (NHTSA), vehicle owners should check the condition of the vehicle's battery, tires and windshield wipers – and replace them if necessary.

NHTSA also suggests adding no-freeze fluid in the washer reservoir and checking the vehicle's antifreeze.

"Basic vehicle maintenance is the first step in making holiday travel safer," Hancock said. "It's a relatively quick process that may help prevent an unfortunate situation later."

In addition, the American Automobile Association (AAA) recommends carrying the following items during colder weather:

- Ice scraper and brush
- Jumper cables
- Flashlight
- Small shovel
- Sand or cat litter – for added traction

For longer winter road trips, AAA suggests packing some additional items:

- Extra winter clothing
- Blanket or sleeping bag
- First aid kit
- Food and water

For the latest travel and road condition information in Kentucky, motorists may dial 511 or log onto 511.ky.gov.

Emergency motorist assistance on Kentucky's interstates and parkways is available by calling 877-FOR-KYTC.

Please be aware of carbon monoxide while heating home this season

This fall, your nose is not enough to detect a deadly situation caused by odorless gases. Carbon monoxide (CO) poisoning and natural gas leaks increase this time of year and now is the time to think about making sure your home is equipped with the right detectors to protect you and your family. A new compact design smart alarm from Universal Security Instruments, which is no bigger than a smart phone, has one sensor to detect both carbon monoxide and natural gas exposure in your home. As the smallest option on the market that uses microprocessor technology, the alarm covers only one outlet and is available with a digital display screen for readability. A combined alarm is the best choice for every floor in the home to ensure detection of these potential dangers.

The dangers of odorless gases:

- Carbon monoxide poisoning, often called the silent killer, is the leading cause of unintentional poisoning deaths in the United States

- The CDC reports more than 450 people die from accidental non-fire related CO poisoning associated with combustion products.

Within the past two decades, federal officials have noted almost 3,000 significant gas pipeline accidents that have killed 323 people while injuring 1,372.

Please let me know if you are interested in learning more about the 2-in-1 Carbon Monoxide & Natural Gas Alarm and how its smart microprocessor technology can prevent potential deadly situations and keep families safe. I am happy to send over more information, images or product samples.

Thank you!

Cut your own Christmas tree this year

Cutting your own Christmas tree brings to mind a Currier & Ives image of a 19th century family in a one-horse open sleigh towing a large pine through a snow-covered field. Kentuckians can experience the modern-day equivalent on farms throughout the Commonwealth.

"Christmas tree farms enable families to make holiday memories," Agriculture Commissioner James Comer said. "They also help Kentucky farmers make a living. I encourage all Kentucky families to buy a fresh Kentucky Proud tree this holiday season."

At Barker's Christmas Tree Farm near Lexington, owner Dale Barker will let customers borrow a small sled or wagon to tow the tree back to your car, as well as a bow saw for cutting.

"The majority of the industry in Kentucky is 'choose and cut,'" said Barker, president of the Kentucky Christmas Tree Association (KCTA). "It's an agritourism thing. The kids enjoy going out in the field."

To encourage their parents to return the next year, Barker's takes photos of each family and posts them the following year for pick-up.

"They have to come back the next year to get their picture," said Barker, who has about 600 photos from last year displayed in a small barn. "We've had people collect pictures for 10 years. You watch their kids grow up." The KCTA website lists 18 member farms across the state.

"We have people from Owensboro to northern Kentucky that raise trees," Barker said. "Most people make wreaths and sell tree stands. A few do garland. Some people even get further into agritourism with hayrides."

Barker said no figures are available on how many Christmas trees Kentucky produces. He sells 500-600 per year, priced from $32 to $100, but 100 of those are Fraser firs he imports annually from North Carolina. "Our general trees, scotch or white pines, are $32 any size," Barker said.

Barker is concerned about the future of Kentucky's Christmas tree farms due to the advancing age of KCTA members. "I'm 53 and may be the youngest one in our association," Barker said.

"There's room for others. The market is out there.

"But it's not something people jump into very often. It's a long-term proposition because it takes seven years before your first trees are ready for harvest."

Barker said last summer's drought was "rough" on KCTA members.

"If you didn't water small trees last summer, you lost them," he said. "Normally, you lose 10 to 15 percent of your trees, not 80 to 90 percent. Established trees in good health made it."

To find a Kentucky Christmas tree farm near you, including Barker's, visit www.kychristmastreefarms.com. The Kentucky Department of Agriculture's Division of Agritourism website, www.KentuckyFarmsAreFun.com, will soon feature Christmas tree farm listings.

You can also search for Christmas trees under the "Find KY Proud Products" icon at www.kyproud.com. The Kentucky Proud website lists 90 member businesses in the commonwealth that sell Christmas trees.

Managing Holiday Stress

The holidays are fast approaching and while you probably haven't hit your maximum stress level yet, it will surely hit soon enough. With last minute shopping, problems with turkey baking, finding all your stuffed-away decorations and dealing with relatives right around the corner, it's expected that everyone will have stressful moments.

You can easily control your holiday stress by remembering to simplify and remain organized. Holidays are marketed in excess. Too often during these special times we do too much. There is too much food, too many gifts, too many people, too much forgotten items at the store, too much decorating. You get the point; there is a lot of everything.

Simplify this season to make it more enjoyable. Cut back on the number of trees you decorate, strands of lights you hang outside, rolls of wrapping paper you buy, and number of people you buy for. Don't bake 16 batches of cookies. You don't need candy in every room in your house. You don't need box upon box of cards. Remember, everything you put up now, must be stocked away at the end of the season.

Overloading your senses with all the things you are trying to get done can add to the depression you may already be feeling. You may miss loved ones more during the holidays or you may get lonely with all that is going on. It is a very meaningful time of year and by stressing too much we forget what is really important. If spending time with your extended family is not that important to you and you only go out of obligation perhaps you should look into taking a trip or staying at home to save yourself the headache.

Staying organized is a good way to alleviate holiday stress. Scheduling activities and mapping out plans are great ways to keep your loved ones on track. But, becoming too organized can cause a problem. Planning becomes the main focus and there is no room for spontaneity or change. Don't become too busy making things perfect that it throws you off. Stress stems from foul-ups and accidents.

Some of the easiest ways to keep your head together this holiday season are a few of the simplest. Breathe, live, laugh, and love those that you are around. Embrace the season by enjoying all the mishaps that make your traditions what they are. Remember that the most important part of the holidays are your loved ones. In the end it doesn't matter if the lights on the tree quit working, that some of your presents were wrapped in newspaper or that the turkey was a bit crisp. It's about the family and friends that you made those memories with.

MANAGEMENT TRAINEE

Job Description: Management Trainee for newspapers serving several regions in the Midwest

Do you love the media business? The Delphos Herald, Inc. is looking for several entry-level management trainees. The right candidate will learn all they need to know to run a community newspaper publishing operation. We are seeking savvy, hard-working self-starters with strong online computer skills, sales aptitude, excellent written and verbal communications skills, and good spelling ability. The right candidate must have great relationship skills and, above all, the competitive drive to win.

Starting salary is $24,000. Our average management trainee has doubled starting pay within a few years. The Delphos Herald, Inc. has locations in seven states and we need trainees to move into management positions at the locations in those states after an 18-month training period.

We offer an excellent compensation/benefits package, which includes most costs associated with relocating to our communities. This job is challenging and, while not for everyone, provides an opportunity to start a great career in the fast-changing media industry.

To apply, email rgearry@delphosherald.com. Please send a letter describing yourself and your accomplishments. Include details of experience from selling ads for your high school or college newspaper to being an officer of a club, scholastic honors earned or winning a cookie sales contest. Our screening process will include: aptitude tests and background checks, including credit history.
